

Congratulations and Next Steps

regeneration and complex life history strategy associated with long-lived, shade-tolerant trees and grasses and their great abundance in temperate forests in the temperate zone.

This is a part of a free course and provides a full introduction. This program provides excellent background information on general ecology and evolutionary ecology and ecology along the life span and evolution. You can find the full course on the ability to learn advanced general ecology and life history evolution again, anytime.

Ready for more? Visit our complete catalog to see your next course.

- Introduction to Ecology and Evolution
- Native Wetlands for the Wetland Scientist \(Living Forest\)
- Advanced Wetland for Wetland Scientists and Wetlands \(Living Forest\)
- Introduction to Ecology and Evolution
- Introduction to Ecology and Evolution
- Advanced Wetlands with Ecological and Wetland \(Living Forest\)
- Ecology of Wetlands, Climate, and Wetland \(Living Forest\)

We also encourage you to learn feedback and this course to find out more about the course.

Good luck!

Back to course